Perry Yanow

Each year the Clipper Yearbook is dedicated to a person, a concept or an event that truly embodies or symbolizes that year's class. This year the yearbook is dedicated both a concept and a person important to the class of 1994.

The Clipper 1994 is dedicated first to the concept of perseverance. This year's class has been through what seems like an unprecedented amount of upheavals and trials. Each and everyone of us knows a senior who is worried about getting a job after college in a downward spiralling economy. Each of us also knows several seniors who not only are full time students but hold full time jobs. Yet they made it through to graduation with perseverance and dedication. These qualities are going to be what carry them through the next few years. So . . . here's to the class of 1994.

The yearbook is also dedicated to the memory of Professor Perry Yanow. He taught psychology at Salem State for over 30 years and made a lasting impression in the hearts and minds of all who's lives he touched.

Born in East Boston, Professor Yanow graduated from Somerville High, got his BA from Mount Saint Mary's College in Maryland, earned his master's from Suffolk University and a Doctorate from the University of Ottawa. He was a veteran of World War II, working in naval intelligence, and taught in the Somerville public school system during the 1950's.

Perry Yanow was a member of the Salem State faculty since 1960. Along with his numerous contributions to the college, Professor Yanow served in the capacity of college mace bearer. Highly respected by the Psychology department and the entire college community, Professor Yanow was beloved by his students. He will be missed by all.

MASCAC Athletes Compete For 14 Championships

The Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference (MASCAC) was formed in 1971 with the primary purpose to provide a uniform program of athletics for all state colleges. The objective underlying this purpose was to create a healthy atmosphere of competition and rivalry between the colleges and their student bodies while fostering the values of cooperation, leadership, courage, self-discipline, and self reliance among the participating athletes.

The Howard C. Smith Cup

The Howard C. Smith Cup is named in honor of the former Massachusetts State College Trustee who, in 1970, encouraged the state college's athletic directors to hold a series of meetings to form an intercollegiate athletic conference. In June of 1971, an affimmative agreement was reached and the Massachusetts State College Athletic Conference (MASCAC) bacame a reality.

During the MASCAC's initial year of existence, its charter member colleges (Boston, Bridgewater, Fitchburg, Framingham, Mass. Maritime, North Adams, Salem, Westfield and Worcester) voted to award a "Cup" annually to the institution which compiles the most points based on the placement of each of its teams in the 14 conference championships.

Thus, the Howard C. Smith Cup was established in honor of Trustee Smith for his trailblazing effort in convincing the Massachusetts State College system to form its own intercollegiate athletic conference.

CAPSULE: Nicholas Padovani's booters produced the program's 13th consecutive winning season, but missed being selected for postseason tournament play for the first time since 1982. The Vikings, who had appeared in eight straight NCAA tournaments and captured the MASCAC title the previous eight seasons prior to 1992, finished runner-up to North Adams.

SSC, after a 1-2 start, went undefeated over its last nine matches (8-0-1). The top 1992 highlights for the Vikings were runner-up honors at the Kean (NJ) Columbus Weekend Soccer Classic and playing eventual NCAA New England Region champion Western Connecticut State to a 0-0 deadlock.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS: Gilson Fernandes, Karamoh Kaba, James Wah and Hakan Roos were voted to the All-MASCAC first team. Michael Donovan and Kenny Farrell were named All-MASCAC second team selections. Fernandes chosen third team All-New England and Kaba named Team MVP.

*SSC Invitational Tournament
#MASCAC Postseason Tournament at Salem, MA

CAPSULE: Bette Bailey's spikers produced their finest season since 1982, the last time SSC won the MASCAC, despite a 1-6 start. The Lady Vikings finished the regular season as co-champions (their seventh MASCAC title) with Framingham State and earned the No. 1 seed for the 2nd Annual MASCAC postseason tournament.

SSC defeated Fitchburg and Mass. Maritime in the first two round before falling behind 2 1 to Bridgewater in the championship final. However, the Lady Vikings won the next two games in dramatic fashion to win their first ever MASCAC postseason title.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS: Colleen Doherty voted MASCAC Player of the Year and Team MVP. Doherty and Sybil Owens named to the All-MASCAC first team. Kelly Fineran and Kerri Gillen named to the All-MASCAC second team.

CAPSULE: Twelfth year head coach Tim Shea and his Lady Vikings made a return trip to the NCAA tournament after not going in 1992 for the first time since 1983. SSC, despite placing runner-up to Westfield during the regular sesson, won its third MASCAC postseason title in four year defeating WSC in the finals.

The Lady Vikings jumped out to a 5-1 start which included a three-point win over Southern Maine, New England's No. 1 ranked team. After losing three of its next four, SSC caputred 12 of its final 16 games. The Lady Vikings appeared just twice all season among the region's top ranked teams. In the first poll conducted in January and the last poll conducted prior to the NCAA tournament.

SSC's bid to the NCAA tournament was its eleventh consecutive postseason showing (10 NCAA & 1 ECAC). INDIVIDUAL HONORS: Junior guard Kristen Davis was chosen Team MVP and All-MASCAC first team while junior forward Alison Bennett was chosen to the second team.

CAPSULE: Sixth year head coach Jim Todd directed the Vikings to the NCAA tournament for the fifth straight year after winning the MASCAC regular season and postseason titles for the third consecutive season. After a shaky 6-7 start, SSC rattled off 12 victories in a row prior to losing to Eastern Conn. State in a second round NCAA tournament game.

The Vikings posted an 11-1 regular season MASCAC record en route to the program's tenth league title. SSC will enter the 1993-94 campaign having won 41 of its last 42 MASCAC games. The NCAA postseason appearance was the Vikings' ninth as a program. SSC was ranked fourth in the final NCAA New England selection committee poll.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS: Senior forward Peter Deppisch named Team MVP, MASCAC CO-MVP and first team MASCAC all-star. Junior guard Michael Bates was selected first team All-MASCAC and New England Division 3 Unsung Hero while junior forward David Ace was named to the second team.

% NCAA Tournament at Elmira, NY - Quarterfinals

CAPSULE: Twelfth year head coach Bill O'Neill directed the Vikings to their 20th consecutive ECAC playoff appearance, 19th MASCAC championship and fifth NCAA tournament. After defeating Plattsburgh State, the defending national champions, and Division 1 Air Force to start the season, SSC went in a tailspin losing five of its next six games. However, the Viking pucksters snapped out of it going on an eight-game winning streak which included a victories over Division 1 Army and UMass Boston which marked SSC's 500th career win as a program.

The Vikings gained their third ever ECAC playoff final appearance and, despite losing, were chosen for the NCAA tournament for the second year in a row. SSC handed Elmira its first home loss of the season in the first of a two-game quarterfinal series and then had to wait two and a half days to play because "The Storm of the Century" dropped three feet of snow on southwestern New York.

INDIVIDUAL HONORS: Senior forward Mike LaCroix, SSC's all-time scoring leader with 84 goals and 137 assists for 221 points in 107 games, was chosen as SSC male President's Cup Award winner, Team co-MVP, MASCAC Player of the Year and an ECAC East and College Hockeywriters all-star. Juniors Kurt Mallett, D.J. Keating and Joe Bonvie named first team All-MASCAC along with LaCroix. Keating also named SSC Team co-MVP.
